I am pleased to inform you that the Admissions Committee has admitted you to the Twenty-fifth Session of the Program for Management Development commencing January 31, 1973. We look forward to your active participation in PMD and are hopeful that you will find it to be a rewarding, educational experience.

Classes will normally be held six days each week beginning on Thursday, February 1, 1973. Recesses are planned as follows:

Noon, Thursday, March 8, until start of classes on Wednesday, March 14.

Noon, Thursday, April 19, until start of classes on Wednesday, April 25.

Participants are expected to attend the last class before a recess as well as the first class after a recess.

The success of the program for you and the entire class depends upon the day-to-day contribution of each man from his own knowledge and experience to the discussion groups and class meetings. Each class activity and event has been planned to utilize the background brought to this session by you and each participant. Your sponsor has been requested to be certain that you will be free from all job responsibility during the program so that you can take part fully in each day's schedule, Monday through Saturday.
